When dismantling the tent in the morning, one should take care that it fell in the direction you were going. Wens Padilla established the first mission to Mongolia at the request of the new democratic government in 1992, and a second was established under South Korean Father Robert Lee Jun-Hwa in 1997. Brown and Urgunge Onon, has useful sections on society and the environment.

Mongolia: Bibliography

The dirt and the lice were there, as well as a lot of other things, but I was not looking down my nose or feeling superior; I was trying to recall the feeling of participation in a kind of life. Clearly this was a modular system involving abstract calculation of distances and speeds that contra Ingold developed long before the advent of modernity. He talked to the people, understood their ways and culture.

The Commissar

Communist Neo-Traditionalism: Work and Authority in Chinese Industry. On the other hand, songs of praise should be sung—for animals, the landscape, the file of the caravan itself.
