Nursing Home Staff Development; A Guide for Inservice Programs

Nurses enjoy rewards for their efforts and the group recognition that winning provides. You are a leader in your facility, so you recognize that the best leaders are constantly learning — learning how to empower employees to commit their best work, learning how to best communicate with resident families at a difficult time, learning how to keep the entire team with their eyes on the same goal. Purchase our continuing nurse education course and learn what to do if a spill occurs.

Nursing In

The outcomes manager used CareScience's Care Management System CareScience Philadelphia, Pa to identify outcome profiles of top-volume diagnostic related groups DRGs with and without UTIs to ascertain whether UTIs were a significant issue.
