Unity of tradition and renewal in the views of the St.

Introduction to "Another Vision of Empire. Henry Rider Haggard's Modernity and Legacy"

Conserving his resources and limiting his battles allowed him to gain concessions from the Arameans. He says: I have no fancy for handing over this beautiful country to be torn and fought for by speculators, tourists, politicians and teachers, whose voice is as the voice of Babel, just as those horrible creatures in the valley of the underground river tore and fought for the body of the wild swan; nor will I endow it with the greed, drunkenness, new diseases, gunpowder, and general demoralisation which chiefly mark the progress of civilisation among unsophisticated peoples. Sir Theophilus Shepstone 1817-1893 was Secretary of Native Affairs in Natal from 1856 to 1876.

Confronting Colonial Amnesia

As far back as history records, African rulers have grown rich by preying upon one another and selling their captives into slavery. First it is concerned with the obligations laid upon the British under the series of international defensive treaties--that is to say, commitments to NATO, CENTO, SEATO, and to some allied and protected states. The constitutional instrument was homemade, and before being submitted to the British Parliament it was referred back to a plebiscite in each of the Australain states.
