Distribution List problem

Failure to integrate capital construction and physical infrastructure projects into larger and related systems or networks f. Reports to Shareholders
The shareholders, who are the real owners of the company, are interested to know the performance of the company.

Internal Mail Theft

Developing countries require two types of trained project administrators: those who can plan and coordinate the entire project cycle as an integrated process and those who can manage the project as an organizational entity once it is selected and approved. To be fair to the IIA, guidance cannot be too far ahead of practice.
