I'm so fucking tired of everything. I'm tired of pretending all my life; I'm tired of eating, sleeping, living. It upsets me a lot actually. Or rather it

I don't know when it started.

Pretty Tales for Tired People by Martha Gellhorn

Men, women, rich, poor, white, black. My older brother wasn't going to be able to make it to Christmas because he lived too far away and it was just not the same Christmas Eve feeling as we stood there in our fancy holiday finest and sang carols.

Toxic People: 12 Things They Do and How to Deal with Them

It could be worse, honestly. Tired of holding on when all I want to do is give up. I'm 16 years old and I've been having all these signs of depression for the past 6 years.

6 Things You Might Not Think Are Harassment But Definitely Are (Because Apparently We Need To Clear A Few Things Up)

Can Compulsive or Pathological Liars Change? And perhaps it's because it's so easy to convince yourself of the fact that bad things come in threes—after all, this notion is explored pretty much every time a celebrity passes away—that this superstition is so widespread and believed in. I knew something was wrong but I didn't know what.

Trump fatigue is setting in hard at the worst moment for his campaign

I simply cannot believe that the return on that level of deprivation is worth it. For years when I lived at home they would try to convince me there was nothing wrong with me and it was just a phase that would pass. Legends of type 755 and 756.
