High property values, increased aspirations to live in the countryside and limited development of new homes have all had an impact. As well as senior officers, for whom homelessness will be one of a significant number of priorities they have to address, there will be staff who work on the frontline and who meet homeless families and individuals every working day. We hope that this guide will help you to do that and offer ideas that you can take forward and adapt to your local circumstances.

There are many federal housing resources available to seniors. Such an action plan will set out what will happen and when and will indicate how the successful completion of those actions is intended to impact on the statistics.

SLCC

This Guide shows you how. Where this has led to private sector accommodation outside the council area but close to the boundary this may not cause such severe problems, although it can have significant impact on access to schools.
