He received a bachelor's degree from Earlham College in Indiana, a master's degree from the University of Wisconsin and a doctorate from the University of Maryland.

Race, Reform, and Rebellion by Manning Marable

It includes 'The Turner-Thesis Revisited' Jan Willem Schulte Nordholt, 'Concepts of Democracy and Republicanism in the Late-18th Century' Colin Bonwick; 'Transatlantic Radical Liberalism' Owen R Ashton and Alun Munslow; 'James Bryce and Harold Laski' William R Brock; 'The Exceptionalist Syndrome in US Continental and Overseas Expansionism' Serge Ricard; 'In the Name of Anglo-Saxondom, For Empire and For Democracy' Anna Maria Martellone; 'Democracy Goes Imperial' Sylvia L. Noting the grim racial realities still confronting communities of color, and how they have not been alleviated by constitutional guarantees of equal protection, this book suggests that settler colonial theory provides a more coherent understanding of what causes and what can help remediate racial disparities. He explores the increased participation of blacks and other ethnic groups in governmental systems and the white reaction during the period he terms the Second Reconstruction.
