Continuing Medical Education

ISBI is a joint initiative from the IEEE Signal Processing Society SPS and the IEEE Engineering in Medicine and Biology Society EMBS. Please visit individual conference pages for a list of their committee members.

Continuing Medical Education

Participate in the presentations from your guest room, vacation rental, home, or anywhere you choose. ESI makes medical education available when and where you need it, ranging from live in person symposia, webcasts, and videos via DVD, USB, and on-demand streaming to cruise meetings. ESI specializes in medical education in the fields of radiology, pathology, obstetrics and gynecology, cardiology, and more.

2021 Stanford AIMI Symposium: Artificial Intelligence in Medicine & Imaging

Participate in the presentations from your guest room, vacation rental , home, or anywhere you choose.

Current Symposium Overview

There will be no meeting room to convene in — this is a 100% virtual program we invite you to enjoy while at the Fairmont Banff Springs or from your home. Main conference registration does not include the tutorials. Emphasis will be placed on interaction with the audience with ample time for questions and discussion.

Continuing Medical Education

Registration is required for all participants.
