World literature on general theoretical problems in cartography : bibliography for 1945

Another quality common to his work is narrative playfulness: the almost hidden eye and partial face of Bahram as he peers out the blinds to watch the frolicking girls in the pool below, the upright goat that looks like a demon along the edge of the horizon in a story about an old woman confronting the sins of Sanjar, the amazing cosmopolitan variety of humans working on the wall in the sample image. As counsel for a defendant on trial before an international court, the ICTR, I have a duty to point out the dangers that, within this court charged with protecting the rights of humanity, threaten their very foundations: human rights, and among these the right to a fair trial. Dekao and Netto usually battle each other in the net just to prove who is stronger.

One should not infer from that phenomenon that physics is therefore less central than biology. Two of Netto's fellow classmates Dekao has a Net Navi called Gutsman, and Meiru with a custom Net Navi called Roll. The gestures of figures and objects are not only uniquely natural, expressive and active, they are arranged to keep moving the eye throughout the picture plane.
