

Historical atlas of Canada

Thomas Nelson - Historical Atlas of Canada: Volume I: From the Beginning to 1800 on JSTOR

Description: -

-

Canada -- Géographie historique -- Atlashistorical atlas of Canada
-historical atlas of Canada

Notes: 5

This edition was published in 1961

Filesize: 20.44 MB

Tags: #Historical #Atlas #of #Canada: #Volume #II: #The #Land #Transformed, #1800

Historical Atlas of Canada: From the beginning to 1800

That increase was the result of two important processes — external migrations and natural increase. From this starting point at the end of the late Wisconsinian glacial maximum, the atlas provides an unprecedented outline of Canadian prehistory and the early historic period. .

Historical Atlas of Canada: Volume I: From the Beginning to 1800 on JSTOR

On the Island of Montréal the heavily fortified village of Hochelaga, with about 50 longhouses and perhaps 1500 people, controlled the resources of the St Lawrence from the mouth of the Ottawa River to the entrance of Lac Saint-Pierre. This unique Atlas has proven to be not only a pioneering enterprise but also a pioneering experiment in cross-Canada, collaborative, multidisciplinary scholarship. The changes were physical, economic, and social.

Historical atlas of Canada : Canada's history illustrated with original maps : Hayes, Derek, 1947

Richly detailed plates describe the movements of the new arrivals, the fisheries around Newfoundland and in the Gulf of St Lawrence, the French colonization in Acadia and the St Lawrence valley, the development of agriculture, the growth of towns, the expansion of the fur trade, and its impact on the various native nations and on the West generally. Large-scale maps show individual settlements; small-scale maps explain how the patterns of distribution and trade shaped the growth of these settlements and, in turn, of Canada. A series of treaties moved Indian populations to reserves of land in a massive rearrangement of native territory that set the stage for continuing cultural conflict.

Historical Atlas of Canada: Volume II: The Land Transformed, 1800

Part II, 'Building a Nation,' covers the country's 'coming of age.

Historical Atlas of Canada: Volume III: Addressing the Twentieth Century on JSTOR

Matthews, Don Measner, Byron Moldofsky, Susan L.

Related Books

- Ich'ŏn Sŏlbong sansŏng 1-ch'a palgul chosa pogosŏ
- Jack Goldstein - Feuer/Körper/Licht.
- Samoe dorogoe.
- Slave trade debate - contemporary writings for and against
- Project evaluation in the chemical process industries