Nathanson, Joseph Saul

I think that your answer would also be helpful to other victims who may be considering coming forward in similar cases - which I sincerely encourage them to do. Adulterated, impure pharmaceuticals represent a more serious threat than lead-tainted toys or toothpaste contaminated with anti-freeze - not only because they'll undermine faith in our medicine supply, but also because it's more difficult to track all sorts of different pills than one specific toy. With leading members of the Stamford Hill Charedi community looking on, Mr Livingstone said councils and housing associations should be building fewer units for one or two people, and more for four and five.
