

Twentieth century culture and deportment, or, The lady and gentleman at home and abroad - containing rules of etiquette for all occasions ...

National Publishing Co. - Category:1890s dresses

Description: -

-

Etiquette. Twentieth century culture and deportment, or, The lady and gentleman at home and abroad - containing rules of etiquette for all occasions ...

-Twentieth century culture and deportment, or, The lady and gentleman at home and abroad - containing rules of etiquette for all occasions ...

Notes: Also published under titles: 20th century hand-book of etiquette ... c1899; Our deportment ... c1902; Modern etiquette ... c1907.

This edition was published in 1899

Filesize: 11.88 MB

Tags: #Category:1890s #dresses

Twentieth century culture and deportment, or, The lady and gentleman at home and abroad : containing rules of etiquette for all occasions ... : Cooke, Maud C : Free Download, Borrow, and Streaming : Internet Archive

Arthur Cummings sincerely regret that, owing to an unexpected absence from town, they are unable to accept the very kind invitation of Mr. Though implied in selection, yet it must be specified in detail. If she be attentive and respectful to her parents, kind and affectionate toward her brothers and sisters, not easily ruffled in temper and with inclination to enjoy the pleasures of home; cheerful, hopeful and charitable in disposition, then may he feel, indeed, that he has a prize before him well worth the winning.

Category:1899 illustrations

In the event of leaving town for a long absence, P. It is hardly necessary to say that a business card should never be used as a visiting card. Gentlemen rarely ask for introductions to one another, but, should a lady, for any cause, express a desire to present two men of her acquaintance to one another, they must, even if not anxious for the honor, acquiesce instantly in her request.

Maud C. Cooke

Judge, then, of her disappointment, when, at the last moment, some delinquent sends in a hasty regret leaving little or no time to fill that terror of all dinner-givers, that skeleton at the feast, an empty chair.

Browse By Library of Congress Class: Philosophy, Psychology, Religion: Ethics, Social usages, Etiquette, Religion

Every faculty in either awakens itself in the other. When ladies are visiting in a house where the caller, whether man or woman, is unacquainted, he or she always leaves a card for the lady of the house and requests to see her: a request which she may not grant, but one which it would be a marked slight to omit. Physicians and clergymen have the same privilege; honorary titles, however, should be avoided.

Related Books

- Will and spirit - a contemplative psychology
- ABC for book collectors
- Income tax including corporation tax and capital gains tax
- Mosaïsme et société - de la tradition à la révolution
- Learning to program in C