Who do you side with? In 1783 he sub-let the shop he ran as a winery at Kinson. When Carter's men travelled through Poole, they wore masks and tall women's hats, such an effective disguise that they were unrecognizable.

Smuggler's Run

When opposition at Fordingbridge got really intense, smugglers would sink tubs in the river Avon. . This clever ruse apparently had to stop when one of the revenue men invited Lovey for a glass at the Eight Bells in Christchurch.
