This is characterized by contraction of coke mass, structural development of coke and final hydrogen evolution. Its role as a structural support material is especially important, particularly in the lower parts of the BF, since it cannot be replaced by any other raw materials.

FT-IR study shows the presence of aliphatic -CH<sub>2</sub> and -CH<sub>3</sub> groups, aliphatic C-O-C stretching associated with -OH and -NH stretching vibrations and HCC rocking. EXAMPLE A set of 19 pellets were fabricated according to the above method using coke particles of a 0.
