The Bilingualism N-SIG produces three types of publications.

Current Issue: Online Learning Journal

Vol 25, Issue 1 2021 You probably know that the Online Learning Consortium publishes a peer-reviewed scholarly journal called Online Learning OLJ.

Educational Resources

The material in all of the monographs originally appeared in our newsletter as a serial. I will start next year knowing I can handle anything that comes my way.

The Language Teacher Online 21.8: An Overview of JALT's National Special Interest Groups

To restructure education effectively, educators must foster the dynamics of group functioning and build an environment in which research-proven teaching methodologies promoting positive student interaction can flourish. Grace given to students, parents, teachers and staff has never been more needed than this school year. Our goals are to help this diverse group by offering a forum for sharing information, networking with other professionals, and providing support groups.

Teacher guides provide important background about the issues that each lesson explores, as well as engaging activities to focus the group and prayers that classes can lift up together. Knowing how principles and methods interact with society's expectations places teachers in a coherent social context. Within the next 5 years, the Japanese Ministry of Education has plans to introduce English education into all elementary schools in Japan.

Library periodicals in review

It will include a feature of our previous publication Learner to Learner, a forum for members to share ideas and advice about their own learning of Japanese and other languages. Fax: +81 45 845 8242; Email: or our Web page at.
