

Elements of Soviet strategic policy

Rand Corporation - Foreign Policy: 16 Elements of Foreign Policy

Description: -

-

Soviet Union -- Military policy.

Soviet Union -- Strategic aspects, elements of Soviet strategic policy

-

The Rand paper series ; P-6389 elements of Soviet strategic policy

Notes: Cover title.

This edition was published in 1979

Filesize: 7.51 MB

Tags: #Did #Star #Wars #Help #End #the #Cold #War? #Soviet #Response #to #the #SDI #Program

The elements of Soviet strategic policy

The only result that the SDI program was able to achieve in the context of confrontation was to embolden those in the Soviet Union who defined security in confrontational terms and benefited from this kind of understanding. The NPO Mashinostroyeniya design bureau developed a concept of an intercontinental missile with a gliding reentry vehicle, presenting it as one more way to defeat the U.

The elements of Soviet strategic policy

When street protests erupted in Russia itself in 2011-2012, after flawed elections to the Russian parliament and in response to Putin's decision to regain the presidency, Putin laid the blame for these too on Washington, DC. An overview of the conceptual principles that inform the Soviet approach to national security and underlie Soviet weapons acquisition and force development. The harmony between the two, as is there in a parliamentary system, can be a source of strength and lack of harmony between the two can be a source of hindrance for the foreign policy makers.

Russia's Global Ambitions in Perspective

The Russian economy has performed poorly since then, with growth hampered by a failure to institute long-overdue structural reforms and excessive dependence on exporting hydrocarbons and other raw materials. This report is part of the RAND Corporation Paper series.

Milestones: 1989

Anti-Communism and Pro-Liberal Democracy ideologies have always influenced the shape and course of foreign policies of non-communist Western nations. It has been through diplomacy that India and Pakistan have been trying to initiate and adopt confidence building measures. As in other countries, economic interests like workers from huge manufacturing companies especially in the defense sector, railway workers, miners and those with important skills and functions that the state relies upon like the intelligence operatives in the security services, or the members of the uniformed military can bring some weight to the bargaining table.

Russia's Global Ambitions in Perspective

One of his main skills is to disassemble to lie. Bluth outlines Soviet strategic arms policy in this period, identifies the principal interest groups involved and studies a number of critical decisions taken in relation to strategic bombers, strategic nuclear forces based at sea, ballistic missile defence and the military uses of space.

Related Books

- Two energy futures - a national choice for the 80s
- Strongly correlated systems, coherence and entanglement
- Michigans state urban strategies
- Dallavverbio localistico alla preposizione in Omero
- External linkages and economic development - the Singapore experience