So, retirement will bring a sea-change to my life, but the time has come for me to spend more time with my family, my mom, my children, and my grandchildren. Together, we launched our Outcome-Based Investment Strategy in 2018, better known as Shared Stewardship. Mike Zupko, executive director of the Wildland Fire Leadership Council, said the main problem with the Thomas Fire in Ventura County, Calif.

The Forest Service aims to improve its NEPA policies and procedures to make them more efficient, while fully honoring our environmental stewardship responsibilities. But we have successfully navigated the transition to a new administration, and I am confident that the Forest Service is on the right track, with the right priorities for the future: beating the pandemic; providing economic relief; tackling climate change; creating racial equity, in accordance with This Is Who We Are; and improving our workforce and our work environment in the spirit of changing our culture to become who we truly aspire to be. Here in the United States we turn our rivers and streams into sewers and dumping-grounds, we pollute the air, we destroy forests, and exterminate fishes, birds and mammals -- not to speak of vulgarizing charming landscapes with hideous advertisements.

While many still considered natural resources inexhaustible, Roosevelt would write: We have become great because of the lavish use of our resources. These reserves would later become today's national wildlife refuges, managed by the United States Fish and Wildlife Service USFWS.

I also believe that the time is right.

Reforming the Forest Service by Randal O'Toole

We want you all to know how much a good transition means for the Forest Service and USDA. I will be retiring from USDA Forest Service in August.
