Soul of a Nation ARTBOOK

Black artists across the country worked in communities, in collectives, and individually to create a range of art responsive to the moment—including figurative and abstract painting, prints, and photography; assemblage and sculpture; and performance. The show takes off in the fifth gallery, which looks at L. Also in connection with the Broad exhibition is Time is Running Out of Time: Experimental Film and Video from the L.

Brooklyn Museum: Soul of a Nation: Art in the Age of Black Power

The Black Emergency Cultural Coalition is a good example of an arts group that formed in protest against racial exclusion. Soul of a Nation explores how social justice movements, as well as stylistic evolutions in visual art such as Minimalism and abstraction, were powerfully expressed in the work of artists including Romare Bearden, Barkley Hendricks, Noah Purifoy, Martin Puryear, Faith Ringgold, Betye Saar, Alma Thomas, Charles White, and William T. The civil rights movement made crucial progress toward equality by 1963.
