

Abortion and family building - fertility limitation in Hungary and Japan ....

University Microfilms - Abortion in Hungary

Description: -

-Abortion and family building - fertility limitation in Hungary and Japan

• • •

-Abortion and family building - fertility limitation in Hungary and Japan

•

Notes: Photocopy of thesis (Ph.D.)-Brown University, 1976.

This edition was published in 1980

Filesize: 26.99 MB

Tags: #The #Effects #of #Induced #Abortion #on #Subsequent #Reproduction

FERTILITY CONTROL TRANSITION FROM ABORTION TO CONTRACEPTION IN JAPAN SINCE 1948 on JSTOR

If the fetus is male, continue the pregnancy otherwise abort it and stop bearing further children. It is common during periods of rapid fertility decline for populations to increase their use of both abortion and contraceptives to meet the desire for smaller families and to time births more exactly. For rates before 1975 and for years up to 1987 not shown in this article, see Henshaw SK and Morrow E, Induced Abortion, a Wend Review, 1990 Supplement, New York: The Alan Guttmacher Institute, 1990.

Recent Trends in Abortion Rates Worldwide. (RESEARCH NOTE).

The starting place for a microsimulation model of fertility is a flow chart of the reproductive process and sets of real or hypothetical probability distributions which can take either empirical or functional forms. Among 20–24-year-olds, we observe excess abortions in Bulgaria, Latvia and Spain and fewer abortions in Lithuania and Slovenia. Most Chinese emperors or most dynasties insisted on constant demographic growth.

Recent Trends in Abortion Rates Worldwide. (RESEARCH NOTE).

Induced abortions may be performed for reasons that fall into four general categories: to preserve the life or physical or mental well-being of the mother; to prevent the completion of a pregnancy that has resulted from rape or incest; to prevent the birth of a child with serious deformity, , or genetic abnormality; or to prevent a birth for social or economic reasons such as the extreme youth of the pregnant female or the sorely strained resources of the family unit. Bureau of the Census, International database, June 1998, , accessed Nov.

Communists and Uteruses: How the Soviet Union and People's Republic of China Sought to Control Women's Reproduction

Pre-natal and maternity allowances are paid and married couples receive Government loans, tax reductions and rebates on the costs of public services. An extreme example are the San of the Kalahari Desert who were not subject to any taboo and yet they achieved four-year birth intervals through the contraceptive effect of frequent four times an hour breast-feeds.

Dans les quelques pays en voie de développement disposant de données fiables, certains Chine, Corée du Sud, Tunisie et Turquie ont enregistré une baisse des taux d'avortement, tandis que d'autres Cuba et Vietnam, notamment présentent plutôt une augmentation de ces taux. Il est également à noter que la sécrétion vaginale, riche en anticorps qui protègent contre les maladies.

Related Books

- Covered garden.
- Good morning, brothers!
- House at Sandalwood
- Christianity of the High-Chvrch considerd. - Dedicated to a noble peer.
- Puberty and schizophrenia