Great Fire of London

A Medal Index Card may include the following information. For the first century or more the paper contained much foreign news, together with reports of shipping movements and matters of interest to English traders, but there was also coverage of some local matters and many advertisements of a wide-ranging nature, many quite unofficial, such as those for books and medical cures, with descriptions of runaway apprentices mixed with those for deserters.

Using the London Gazette to Research a WW1 Soldier

In turn, The London Gazette carries not only notices of UK-wide interest, but also those relating specifically to entities or people in England and Wales. She captured the hearts of world leaders, fashion icons and people all over the planet, who knew her as Jackie Kennedy, Jacqueline Onassis, or simply Jackie O.

The records of the issue of medals and awards were not damaged by enemy bombing in the Second World War, as was the case for the Service Records.

British Army WW1 Medal Records 1914

Through this sad Accident it is easie to be imagined how many persons were necessitated to remove themselves and Goods into the open fields, where they were forced to continue some time, which could not but work compassion in the beholders, by his Majesties care was most signal in this occasion, who, besides his personal pains, was frequent in consulting all wayes for relieving those distressed persons, whic produced so good effect, aswell by his Majesties Proclamations, and the Orders issued to the Neighbour Justices of the Peace to encourage the sending in provisions to the Markets, which are publickly known, as by other directions, that when his Majesty, fearing lest other Orders might not yet have been sufficient, had commanded the ViSualler of his Navy to send bread into Moore-fields for the relief of the poor, which for the more speedy supply he sent in Basket out of the Sea Stories; it was found that the Markets had been. The Edinburgh Gazette was founded in 1680 and The Dublin Gazette in 1705.
