Mann Letters To Paul Amann

A liaison followed, and although there was a break in their relations the following year, the breach was soon healed, and from December, 1835, he looked upon their relationship as permanent and regarded Mathilde — this was the name he had adopted instead of the preposterous Crescentia — as his wife. Authored by--- Ernest Dowson My Lady April Thank you for your poems! As well as JW, he was the friend of such prominent artists and writers as Edward Burne-Jones, Charles Dickens and the Brownings.

But as the careworn cheek grows wan, And sorrow's shafts fly thicker, Ye stars, that measure life to man, Why seem your courses quicker? This is that light and revelation pure, Which Jacob saw and in prophetic view, Did hail its author from the skies, and bade The sceptre wait with sov'reignty and sway On Judah's hand till Shiloh came.
