Article 16 Rights of Children Every child, whatever his parentage, has the right to the protection that his status as a minor requires from his family, society and the State. The Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms, better known as the European Convention on Human Rights, was opened for signature in Rome on 4 November 1950 and came into force in 1953. The majority required for the rejection of a petition during the post-acceptance stage on grounds of admissibility has been reduced from unanimity to a two-thirds majority of the Commission's members.

Protocol No. 8 to the Convention for the Protection of Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms

The latter requirement is to be understood as establishing a quorum rule, that is, a Chamber cannot examine a petition unless seven members of the Commission are present. All reports shall be submitted to the Secretary General of the OAS, who shall transmit them to the Inter-American Economic and Social Council and the Inter-American Council for Education, Science and Culture so that they may examine them in accordance with the provisions of this article. .

Reasons of textual consistency also spoke in favour of including the second sentence following the insertion in the Convention of such a provision for Commission members. The purpose of this provision is to ensure that there is a uniform practice as regards the referral of cases to the Court. The days shall be shorter in the case of dangerous or unhealthy work or of night work; h.
