Révolution allemande (1918)

It is generally regarded as a failure even by those who have heard of it, a missed opportunity which paved the way for the rise of the Nazis and the catastrophe to come. At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Comintern ECCI in June, Radek proposed that the KPD win over workers and petty-bourgeois elements seduced by the fascists by joining this campaign and adapting to the nationalism of the fascists.

It continued even after the onset of the Ruhr crisis to carry on its agitational and propagandist work on the basis of the United Front formula—at the same tempo and in the same forms as before the crisis. Differences emerged over the support given by the KPD to a left-wing Social Democratic Party SPD government in Saxony and the course to be adopted in the occupied Ruhr.
