The Greeks came up with a huge range of rationally argued propositions about nature and the universe, which, even when dramatically wrong, provided hypotheses which modern Western thinkers have been able to test, often demolish, and in some cases corroborate. They are expecting to find more houses, temples, a theatre and a marketplace — known in Ancient Greek as an agora — over the coming years.

Knossos

Her most famous sanctuary was at Ephesus, in Asia Minor modern Turkey. It was accessed from the south through two guard rooms. However, illicit antiquities smugglers had known about the site for years, and would often pay local farmers for vases and coins they came across.
