These regimes include regulation at a national level, co-operation at bilateral and multilateral levels and international harmonisation of national policies and legislation through adherence to international conventions. Sudan has made the point that an important first step is that Israel should become party to the NPT and place all its nuclear activities under safeguards. There are concerns that need to be addressed in this area, and among them is the gradual dilution of national control, especially within Europe, where pan-national safety regulation is spawning a new umbrella of safety gurus.
