Any person other than a guard who possesses on board any aeroplane, airship, glider or other transport including a train, any firearm, ammunition, weapon or explosive substance, shall be guilty of an offence punishable 5 years imprisonment. Attacks on soft targets led to increased focus on the need for greater coordination and interoperability between intelligence agencies and law enforcement at the national level, increased information sharing, and expanded public-private partnerships. AMB and AQIM were suspected of involvement.

Country Reports on Terrorism 2016

Other notable terrorist attacks on soft targets during the year included AQIM attacks on a restaurant and hotel in Ouagadougou on January 15; a June 28 attack on the main airport in Istanbul, attributed to ISIS; and a July 23 attack on
