College reviews

Educational attainment encourages aspiration and self-belief in the next generation, and it is through family learning, as well as scholarship through formal schooling, that success will come.

Excellence in Schools (1997)

I have changed the arrangement of the headings to chapters 2-7 for the sake of clarity: in the printed version the introductory paragraph shown here in italics appeared above the chapter title which made it look as though it belonged to the previous chapter. Priority is indeed being given to education, to employability and to investment for the future. To overcome economic and social disadvantage and to make equality of opportunity a reality, we must strive to eliminate, and never excuse, under-achievement in the most deprived parts of our country.

From inspection to quality: Ways in which school inspection influences change in schools

HM Inspectors have engaged regularly with colleges since the new arrangements were introduced in 2016—17, providing support and challenge to staff in their understanding of the principles and approaches behind the new arrangements; and the accuracy and appropriateness of their approaches to evaluation. By doing so, each can flourish, building on their own strengths and developing their own special talents.

Excellence in Schools (1997)

It formed the basis of the which encouraged selection by specialisation, changed the names of types of schools, limited infant class sizes, established Education Action Zones etc. Key documents Related links - Reports on the quality of provision in Scotland's colleges See Further education section from drop down menu under Organisation type heading.
