Shirley Canyon is a choose-your-own-adventure type of hike.

Shirley Lake Trail (Squaw Valley)

Make sure you wear good hiking shoes. A bit further along on the top of this hill, you can see the Verrazzano-Narrows Bridge and a skyline full of skyscrapers including the World Trade Center. The blue sky is a welcome sight over Red Tail Trail in Shirley Chisholm State Park.

Short cascades and river you can see when the winter is almost done. I spotted blue paint marking the way up and did my best to follow the trail. Because those waterfalls will only last for as long as there is snowmelt.

These majestic Tahoe waterfalls won't last much longer. Hike to them while they're still going.

It is also important to note that some parts of the trail are operated by USFS, Brownstown Ranger District, 811 Constitution Avenue, Bedford, IN 47421; Phone: 812-275-5987 General Information Directions: From Bloomington: Take State Road 37 south approximately 25 miles to US 50 just south of Bedford.
