Festival of Arts Pageant of the Masters

Trees they were to the lesser birds, not even bending if perched on; but though so stout, the birds did not place their nests on or against them. The yellowhammer is the most persistent individually, but I think the blackbirds when listened to are the masters of the fields. White meadow-sweet lifting its tiny florets, and black-flowered sedges.

The Pageant of Summer

Hour after hour, and still not enough. To these in the distance they give the gipsy-gold tint — the reflection of fire on plates of the precious metal. By the hedge here stands a moss-grown willow, and its slender branches extend over the sward.

His nest is under the rough grasses and the mosses of the mound, a mere tunnel beneath the fibres and matted surface. They may be modified and printed and given away--you may do practically ANYTHING with public domain eBooks.

The Pageant of Summer, and Other Essays by Richard Jefferies

No cunning of glance could see through it; it would have needed a ladder to help any one look over. There is a mark only now where the footpath was; it passed close to the hedge, but its place is traceable only as a groove in the sorrel and seed-tops.
