OVID, METAMORPHOSES 15

Hu Gadarn is the Celtic equivalent of Noah and of Aeneas, leading his people away from their destroyed Paradise, into the Promised Land.

Nothing Lies Beyond the Pillars of Hercules, by Darren Speegle

By licking it the mother forms the limbs, and brings it to a shape just like her own.

About

APPLYING THE IDEAS Now that we have all the props and stage dressings of Bacon's metaphoric system lets take the thing on the road and see how it plays in Peoria.

About

Our strongest evidences for Atlantis and its true location in the Far East are both geological and anthropological. Whether the funeral pile consumes your flesh with hot flames, or old age dissolves it with a gradual wasting power, be well assured the body cannot meet with further ill. This cultural habit seems to have been one of the aspects of Celtic society that classical commentators noticed the most.

Herodotus: The Making of a World Historian on JSTOR

The letter is actually a depiction of a Janus head with the two faces looking in opposite directions. The philosopher , a student of Plato's student , is cited often as an example of a writer who thought the story to be historical fact.
